

"All The World"

Kansas From the album Masque

*All the world's forgiving the change is all around And people everywhere have seen the light in what they've found
It's a happy place in the human race
When all our lives are lived forgiving*

*All the world's for living when love is what you find Despair and loneliness you've got to leave them far behind
Tell the clouds to go let the feeling show
It's great when life is full of living*

*Everyone's aware they know to change the world
we've got to care
And people all should know should have happened long ago
Or could it be that I just now found out*

*Life is meant to share and it means the same thing everywhere
Living everyday, helping people on their way Cause sometimes life gives everyone some doubts*

*[Lord] Can I have time? Is it right what I feel?
At times I doubt what I normally know is real
But right now I don't know what to do
And it's all because of You
I could tell you if I knew that you'd believe*

*As slight and elusive as life sometimes is Right or wrong as we both know we all can be
I could never have denied that I need you by my side
'Cause without You life don't seem that much to me*

*I can see an old man cry, it's his time to die
And life no longer gives him any breaks
He hasn't got a home, no one to call his own Still he tells no one that it is more than he can take*

*When the time is so unkind, an empty future plays in your mind
When the darkness cries out to you, can you escape it?
What can you do?*

*All the world's forgetting the hate that filled our hearts
The times of selfish reasoning that keeps all apart
This world was meant to share, let them know you care
By making someone's life worth living*

All the world's believing that this felling's got to stay till all the world is living till all the world is giving till all the world is loving every day
